Greetings to the Men and Women who so gallantly served our country in this most terrible of all conflicts:

The Selma Erickson Post commends each and every one who have served in world war II and who have done a great job for Democracy. Their services shall not be forgotten. To those who have gone to meet the Supreme Commander, may their loved ones find comfort in the knowledge that they gave their lives for their country.

The Selma Erickson Post is mighty proud of the boys whose pictures are contained in this book, also for the services they have given us all.

I assure all veterans that we will not let you down in after years and shall always remember the service you have performed.

Sincerely,

Bill Weatherford
