ATLANTA POST No. 258

Greetings:

To the men and women who so gallantly served our Country in this most terrible of all conflicts.

As I greet you for the job you have so well done I find words shallow and inadequate.

I realize none of you are seeking individual recognition; you have the satisfaction of knowing you did your part and did it well, and now ask for no more than your place in the society to which you are returning.

As Post Commander of The American Legion I am happy to tell you, we, as members of The American Legion are proud of what you have done, and stand ready to a man to do what we can for you and yours as you return to your home communities.

Sincerely,

[Signature]
Commander

Ingratitude

for all those who paid the price of victory, we now dedicate ourselves to that cause for which they gave their last whole measure of devotion.

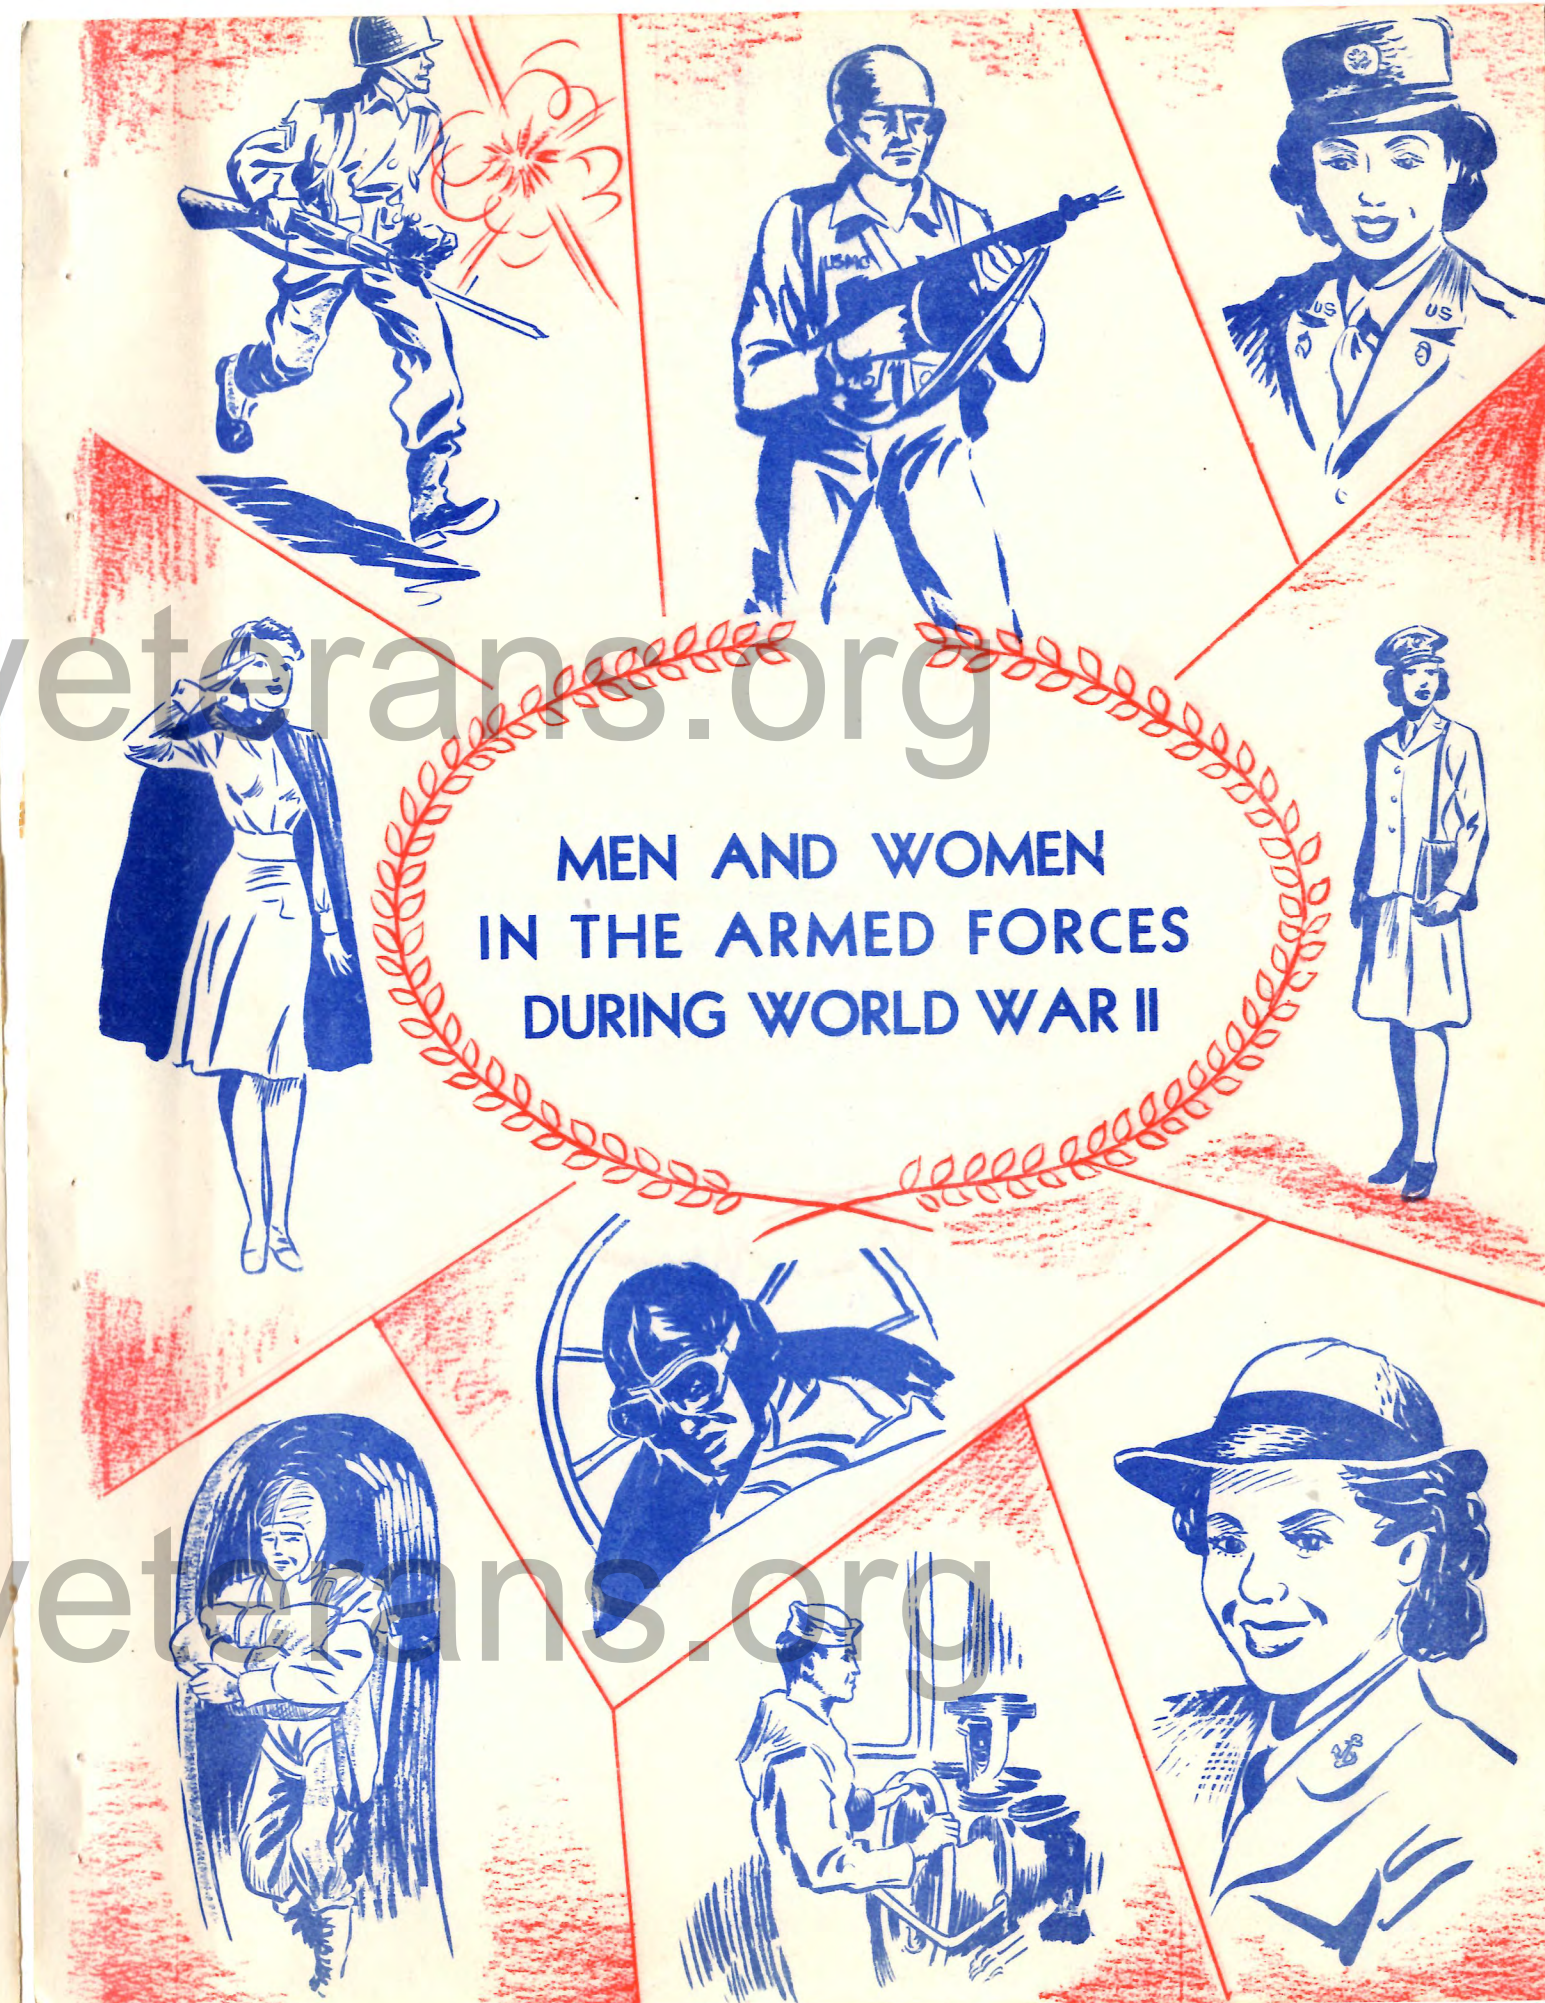

For those who were fortunate enough to live through this, the world's worst catastrophe, we have seriously and soberly committed The American Legion to carry out a vast programme of Rehabilitation.

We invite every ex-serviceman to take advantage of the free services now made available by the various service organizations of the Country.

Sincerely.

M. L. Yandell

M. L. Yandell,
Post Commander
