We have endeavored to obtain the names of those who have been killed in action and regret any exclusions.

Greetings Buddies

The War is over! You have played an important part in winning it. Congratulations on a job well done. As Post Commander of Bernice Cole's Post No. 191 I take this occasion to welcome all who wore the uniform of our country with honor, to those who wish to continue the fight to make America the guardian of democratic peace, to become active members of the American Legion.

The American Legion has long advocated the policies of preparedness, care for the sick and wounded, adequate assistance for the disabled and their families, and child welfare. The Legion policy embodies a determination that the world must always remember; that the veterans of all Wars return with a spirited desire to serve in Peace as in War, and with the belief that the future Peace of America and all the world lies in its young man-hood's ability to establish and maintain a policy of mutual assistance.

The American Legion cherishes four great principles: Justice, Freedom, Democracy, and Loyalty. Its pledge is service to the disabled, the distressed, the widowed and the orphaned. The cause of service to community, state and nation is jealously guarded and opportunity to serve is offered to all its members.

Robert E. Mehoffey, Post Commander
American Legion Post
Breckenridge, Texas

We have made every effort to obtain the pictures and names of all men and women in the Armed Forces from this County. We realize, however, that our goal has not been attained and we sincerely regret any exclusions of names, as well as other errors, which may have occurred.

Guns which roared throughout the world for the past six years are cold, and peoples of all nations are realizing that when those weapons speak again, civilization will suffer losses which will greatly surpass those of all past wars. Yet, even as leaders of the victorious Allied forces seek means of insuring everlasting peace, other forces are constantly working for an opportunity to again plunge the world into armed political revolutions. Tactics of the movement are well hidden, and it is the hope of these camouflaged conspirators that America will awaken too late.

Within this cross-section of military memoirs lies the most powerful weapon at our command: Remembrance. If this volume of pictures could open the doors to the minds of those men who have fought this past bloodiest of all wars, the world would view the secret of American might. This secret we must guard well, lest it lose its potentialities.

The economic future of this Nation, as well as its military and political security, are the responsibility of these men and their comrades. These sacred obligations must be forever in the minds of grateful Americans, and the destiny of a peaceful world made the responsibility of those who have served and offered their lives for the liberation of mankind. There can be no greater memorial to those who died than an eternal vigilance which will make impossible a repetition of two World Wars in less than 25 years. Let the veterans of all wars now assume the task of perpetuating the peace with which we are now blessed. No common objective was ever more noble; unity of purpose will—can—and must return to America.

Leon H. Stanley,
Veterans Service Officer.
