26 August 1947

Cavalrymen:—

The 1st Cavalry Division is still on duty in Tokyo and the surrounding prefectures, and is living up to the traditions set by you fighting men.

The young men who are in service now with the Division are very proud of the records that you men made in World War II.

Very sincerely,

WILLIAM C. CHASE

COMMITTEE ON ARMED SERVICES

11 November 1947

To All Members of the 1st Cavalry Division Assn.:—

My warm personal greetings and best wishes.

To me, the names in this little book are the names of the finest combat soldiers in the world. The difficult days of the war proved them to be good friends and brave companions.

Please get in touch with the ones who live near you and let's keep alive the priceless associations that existed during the war.

Sincerely yours,

VERNE D. MUDGE

Major General, U. S. Army
Retired

HEADQUARTERS 1 ARMY CORPS
OFFICE OF THE COMMANDING GENERAL

3 December 1945

1st Cavalry Division Veterans of World War II:—

You are justly proud of your service during the War especially of such hard fought battles as those in the Admiralty Islands, on the Island of Leyte, in the capture of Manila; and of your outstanding service during the occupation of Japan.

The Division, considered the best in the area by the Supreme Commander, was, in consequence, assigned the most difficult tasks; but, because of the unsurpassed spirit of every member in the Division all were accomplished in a most commendable manner.

During the War nothing else conceivable seemed more noble, or satisfying or remunerative to me than to be a member of the 1st Cavalry Division; first in name, first as a fighting Division, and first in the heart of a former commander.
